Rainforest (1993) A central figure at the heart of a major motion picture. On a multi-leveled cinematic quest to find himself, Tomlinson (Tom Cruise) meets and befriends an African guerilla (Julianne Moore) in the process becoming infatuated with her. Citing cultural influences including The Holy Mountain (1973), this directorial debut is an erotic, romantic, dramatic mystery.

The Apartment (1960) A married man (Gregory Peck) enticed by his wife (Doris Day) to live as a bachelor in their empty apartment feels more alive after being alone, despite a sad decline in his social life and health. This romantic comedy stars Day and Peck as husband and wife whose lives are given new purpose when Day's first-time producer (William Holden) buys an apartment and gives them an apartment to live in. An early forerunner to the independent film boom of the 1980s and 90s, The Apartment has all the camp appeal of a sitcom, and packs a warm heart.
