.Q: How do I import this JSON to node.js server? I tried to import this JSON into a node.js server to get the value from it. But I keep getting an error saying: (200) TypeError: Cannot read property '0' of undefined This is my code: var request = require("request"); var express = require("express"); var app = express(); var port = 3000; request(url, function (error, response, body) { if (error) { console.log(error); } else { console.log(body); } }); app.get("/", function(req,res){ res.send("Hello World!"); }); app.listen(port, function () { console.log("Example app listening on port " + port); }); What's the problem with my code? A: I don't think your body data is in json format. It appears to be a string. Try adding a bodyparser middleware: var request = require("request"); var express = require("express"); var bodyParser = require("body-parser"); request(url, function (error, response, body) { if (error) { console.log(error); } else { console.log(body); } }); app.use(bodyParser.json()); //for handling json app.get("/", function(req,res){ res.send("Hello World!"); }); app.listen(port, function () { console.log("Example app listening on port " + port); });
